Pastor Message November 2015

“Carry each other’s burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.” Galatians 6:2 (NIV)

Jesus was asked “What is the greatest commandment (or law)?” He responded, “Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.”³⁸ This is the first and greatest commandment.³⁹ And the second is like it: ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’⁴⁰ All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments.” (Matt. 22:37-40)

I hear these words and most heartily agree with them. Love God and love my neighbor—that sounds like a great recipe for a better world! Of course the difficult part seems to be doing so “with all your heart, soul, and mind.” I believe that anyone would agree that love is the soul remedy for the pain of this world. But the love being defined here is not an emotion but it is an act of benefiting others even at the cost of the “lover.” Certainly the lover may sense a great emotion of joy, care and accomplishment in giving such love, but the ultimate gain is for the recipient.

Jesus spoke of such love just before his crucifixion: Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one’s life for one’s friends. (John 15:13) We again may whole heartedly agree—for a great friend whom we love we might even give the ultimate sacrifice. Yet, Jesus love was extended to all who were not yet his friends. He gave his life to make enemies into friends. Sinners are enemies of God. Our sin places us in a rebellious state against Him. Al Capone was known as “public enemy #1” in the 1930s, why? Because he acted selfishly and murderously outside of the law that benefits our society. Did you know that Capone paid for Chicago soup kitchens to help those out of work? Many in Chicago thought he was a generous man and well liked, but that did not wipe out the terrible wrong he committed. He was still an enemy of our country.

As sinners we are enemies of God, “But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.” Romans 5:8. I was recently asked by a parishioner if we are to love those who are part of ISIS. They are doing horrific things in the name of their god, especially to Christians. But what does Jesus say? “You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’ But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you,” Matthew 5:43-44 (NIV) We depend upon our government to rightly uphold and protect us against those who break laws and harm others, and I believe that when called upon by our nation to defend against enemies, we are obligated to that call. But at the same time we understand that the best way to stop an enemy is when they become your friend. That does not mean that we as Christians adopt their harmful ways, but that out of our sacrificial love for them, they will come to know the One who has love us.

I hope and pray that the world will become a better place. That’s the big picture, but then again, I wonder if our greatest challenge is much closer to home? What is our response when someone has said something unkind or insulting? How do we treat someone who has taken advantage of us, or not followed through on a promise? Do we treat them as enemies? Do we break off relationship, ignore them in social gatherings, secretly feel satisfied if they get their “just desserts”? Jesus said to love them and pray for them. He even said to forgive them.

November begins with the 1st designated as “National Day of Prayer for the Persecuted Church.” We are asked to pray for those who have been beaten, stole from, kicked out of their jobs, treated by their family as “dead”, just because they have given their lives to follow Jesus as their savior and lord. We must hear the words of Jesus and help them carry their burdens. Each of us must look for ways to come along side of those who are our brothers and sisters in Christ that are suffering for their faith. Please consider during the month of “Thanksgiving” to be active in living out Christ’s love for them. I suggest you visit the website www.persecution.com the official site for Voice of the Martyrs. Maybe you feel you have little to give, but it is always better to “light a candle and curse the darkness.”

The amazing thing that these persecuted Christians have said time and again, even in their midst of suffering, is that they request we pray for their enemies, love their enemies and help their enemies in their time of need. Why? Because they know it is the only way that their enemies will encounter the love of Christ and be changed from enemies of God to friends of God. This is the true solution for our hate torn world.

Here is an update that we received from Missionary Dan Venberg:

Hi Pastor Jim,

I will be leaving for Chad, Africa on the 11th of November. While there, we will be using the donations from Lund to install a new well in a needy community. Following is some basic information: Mafling-Brousse is a small community of Fulbe and Arab nomads who are settling down into a sedentary lifestyle and in desperate need of a well. This community will receive one, thanks to Lund's generosity. I had initially designated another community for this donation, but the state of the roads are going to postpone when that village will receive a well. My original designation for your church was Moudourou. They will still receive a well, but now it will be installed later in February through other donations. I will provide a report with pictures upon my return. Thank you Jim! And thank you Lund! Your partnership in this Living Waters Ministry has far reaching impact for God's Kingdom!

God Bless you on your special day!

Hello there, Mousey here.

It sure is a busy time of year and God has given us beautiful weather.

The Taste of Lund was fabulous as usual, and I stored up some real goodies.

Now comes the Meatball Dinner and that is always good too. What a wonderful Church Family we have that does so much in putting it all together, making food, especially the Meatballs, making that good smelling coffee, serving it up, and cleaning it up. Takes a lot of people to do that.

I am really excited about the Trunk and Treat. I hope I can give out some candy too and what fun to see the kids come in costume, and maybe the big people will have costumes on too.

God has given us a lot of talent for our little church and we sure do put it to good use. What a Blessing! Thank you God!

Till next month, Mousey
